

AFF Logistics: From the unusual to the everyday, we'll get your cargo to the right place at the right time.

If we can get cargo to the wilds of Alaska, we can handle yours.

Bitter Alaskan winters. Treacherous terrain. And towns so remote they can be reached only by plane. This is the rugged, demanding environment where we honed our transportation logistics skills. The same skills that we will put to work for you.

We specialize in the unusual, the unwieldy, the difficult to handle and challenging to move.

Our logistics group—AFF Logistics—specializes in handling the strange, the odd, and the unusual. Our experience getting cargo to the wilds of Alaska comes in very handy when orchestrating complex and difficult logistics projects. We focus on three primary types of cargo movement: heavy weight, projects, and brokerage.

Heavy Weight Cargo – Heavy, oversized cargo that requires special equipment to handle or move can be a challenge for some logistics companies.

Big? Bulky? No problem.

That's not a problem at American Fast Freight (AFF). Our logistics group is well versed in the special requirements for moving this kind of cargo—requirements such as pilot cars, road permits, drop or double drop trailers, cranes, and booms. We can move your heavy weight cargo both over the road or rail within the contiguous United States, and over the water to its final destination.

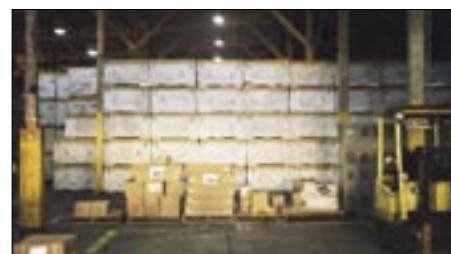

We can ship everything from construction materials to office furnishings—and we'll get it where it needs to be exactly when it needs to be there.

Project Business – A project can be highway construction, mine construction, portable logging operation, dam construction, or a windmill generation system. It can be new commercial construction, such as a large box retailer or hotel. But no matter what your project is, we can help with the logistics.

Your AFF Project Manager will make all the arrangements for loading, carrier selection, transfers, and on-site management. Our logistics services include transportation, warehousing and staging of all finishing materials, even furnishings.

Brokerage – We hold a brokerage license that allows us to act as third party on your behalf, handling the management, contracting, and routing of shipments between cities in the continental United States. We handle predominantly full trailer loads using over-the-road or rail transport, or a combination.

We can also handle trans-border transportation from and to cities along the Canadian Border and cities in the continental United States.

From coordinating deliveries to our warehouses to breaking down freight and shipping it to its final destination, we can handle every aspect of shipping.
